

Charter Communication is raising their rates again, about 5% effective April 1, 2004. Our rates are going up much faster than inflation and they often, though not this time, tell us they are giving us more channels. They blame inflation and continued investment in their cable networks. We would like you to not rubber stamp approvals of these rates increases. We consumers would like not to have to pay for channels we don't want or watch. Why can't we pick the channels we want and pay for only them. There are many channels we did not ask for or want, yet we have to pay for them.
